

Autofresh - One Shot anti-bacterial treatment

A really effective air conditioning cleaner and deodorant with immediate results

Health check for vehicle air conditioning systems

Autoclimate recommends that vehicle air conditioning systems should be run all year round and not just in the warmer months. In addition to reducing service and maintenance problems, A/C also dehumidifies the air entering the vehicle and filters fine airborne contamination.

However, year round running means that an A/C evaporator remains almost permanently damp – a perfect breeding ground for mould, viruses and bacteria. Drivers may not be aware that stale or unpleasant odours could be coming from the A/C and it is not always a minor irritation, symptoms such as coughs, colds or allergies may also develop.

Autoclimate recommends Autofresh anti-bacterial treatment as part of servicing routines. And, with an increasing number of vehicles equipped with A/C, Autofresh is a worthwhile and profitable service add-on. The great thing is that customers will appreciate the benefits of the treatment immediately.

a 'quick fix' and easy to apply

- Start engine, switch off A/C.
- Set temperature to max cold
- Fans to max, recirculation on, open all vents
- Slide passenger seat back, shake can and place in foot well
- Close windows, press button to start, close door
- After 20 mins, open windows, leave engine and fan running for 5 mins
- The result - a fresh smelling vehicle with a long lasting 'fresh water' aroma

Business benefits

- An upsell opportunity or bundle as part of vehicle service menu
- Minimal labour time - treat several vehicles simultaneously
- Low cost and very easy to apply
